SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY

What is suspicious? The way a person looks, or if they are unfamiliar to you, does not make them suspicious. Behavior and activity can.

Look and Listen. Is the person looking into vehicles or homes? Do you hear unusual sounds like yelling or breaking glass? Is the car driving slowly and circling the neighborhood?

Call 911 if you believe someone is in physical danger or a crime is happening. If you're unsure, call the non-emergency number. Police dispatchers can evaluate and determine the response.

Take note. Before calling police, be prepared to describe what you saw, why it is suspicious, and give a detailed description of the behavior, the vehicles or people involved.

Stay safe and remain calm. Do not approach or confront anyone exhibiting suspicious behavior. Call police directly. Do not report emergencies or suspicious behavior on social media.
